Understanding Credit Scores	6/17/26	10:00 AM	Consumer credit scores range between 300–850 and represent a consumer's credit risk or the likelihood of paying bills on time. The higher the score, the better a borrower looks to potential creditors and lenders. The score is based on criteria including number of open accounts, total levels of debt, repayment history, and other factors. Potential creditors use credit scores to evaluate the probability that consumers will pay bills on time. Join us to do some sleuthing about what makes up your credit score and how best to build and manage credit.	https://www.ecmc.org/schools/training	ECMC
